The court can enter an order allowing a treatment provider to administer involuntary medication or treatment to a subject after a finding of probable cause, at a final commitment hearing, or upon a separate post-commitment petition and hearing.

If the order is entered following a finding of probable cause, the order is in effect only until the final hearing. Otherwise, the order would be in effect until the commitment expires or the order is vacated.

About this form: This form is the product of the Wisconsin Records Management Committee, a committee of the Director of State Court's Office and a mandate of the Wisconsin Judicial Conference.
